Travel Companion Coverage

Coverage for travel companions can be included to provide travel accident benefits to those who may be accompanying the insured while traveling for a medical procedure.

Coverage Highlights

Custom Assurance Placements has developed a product to help with the "deep pocket" expenses that may result from a complication of a medical procedure. GPS was not designed to cover baggage, change fees for tickets or other minor trip related expenses. The purpose was to help insure larger financial hardships that may occur should an accident or complication from a covered procedure or travel related event result in a more significant loss.

In addition to the regular travel accident exposure our coverage has been enhanced to include a covered complication where indicated. You will find most policies only include corrective procedure limits for complications of a covered medical procedure and they typically exclude complications from the rest of the policy coverages.
